WHOLE SYSTEM.
ITS MEDICAL PROPERTIES ARE ALTE-RATIVE, TONIC, SOLVENT AND DIURETIC.

RELIABLE EVIDENCE.

Mr. H. P. Stevens:
Dear Sir—I will most cheerfully add my testimony to the great number you have already received in favor of your great and good medicine, Vegetine, for I do not think enough can be said in its praise; for I was troubled over thirty years with that dreadful disease, Catarrh, and had such bad coughing spells that it would seem as though I never could breathe any more, and Vegetine has cured me, and I do feel to thank God all the time that there is so good a medicine as Vegetine, and I also think it one of the best medicines for coughs, and weak, sinking feelings at the stomach, and advise everybody to take the Vegetine, for I can assure them it is one of the best medicines that ever was.

GIVES HEALTH,
STRENGTH AND APPETITE.

My daughter has received great benefit from the use of Vegetine. Her declining health was a source of great anxiety to all her friends. A few bottles of Vegetine restored her health,
strength and appetite.

CANNOT BE EXCELLED.

Charlestown, Mass.
Dear Sir—This is to certify that I have used your "Blood Purification" in my family for several years, and think that for Scorfula or Cankerous Humors or Rheumatic Affections it cannot be excelled; and, as a blood purifier or spring medicine it is the best thing I have ever used, and I have used almost everything. I can cheerfully recommend it to any one in need of such a medicine. Yours respy.

A Witness who Lied and Repented.

Last September John Sinclair, a mill owner near Doby Station, Shawanetown branch St.
Louis and Southeastern Railroad, was murdered in his bed for money, of which the perpetrators got only $5. Before he died he revealed the names of his murderers—E. J. Edmondson, alias Ed. Farmer, and Henry Digby, who were indicted and are now on trial at McLeanboro, Ill. On Saturday Edmondson, who had turned State's evidence, was on the witness stand.— He said that Henry Digby was guilty of the murder; that he went with him to the house where Sinclair was stopping and stood at the gate; that Henry entered, and shortly a pistol shot was heard. Edmondson beat a hasty retreat, and was shortly afterward joined by Henry Digby. He asked the latter if he had shot Sinclair, and received the following reply:
"I don't know whether I did or not." Things began to look gloomy. Henry Digby said, as Edmondson sat in the witness chair and declared before God and man that he was telling the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth. The witness was cross examined for two long hours and could not be made to waver. It was whispered all through the court room, "He is telling the truth. Did you ever hear a witness tell such a straight story?" But at last he raised to his feet, and with a trembling voice said: "Gentlemen, I have been swearing to lies. I do not want to swear Henry Digby's life away and send his soul down into hell. Henry Digby is innocent of the crime. We both are innocent. I do not understand the nature of an oath. God has forgiven my sin, and I have repented!" In camp meeting style, Digby's wife, shouting almost at the top of her voice, thanked God for the deliverance of her husband; the wildest excitement prevailed, and the entire audience rose involuntarily to their feet. After order was restored the witness proceeded to state, in a clear and decisive manner, that all his testimony against Digby was false; that he had been induced to make the statement through the promises and influence of one Henry Tarwater. He was then remanded to jail, and the jury put under guard till Judge Crawford should decide how to proceed. It is now the opinion of a great many that Edmondson and another not yet indicted are the perpetrators of the bloody deed. The whole case now seems to be enshroued in deeper mystery than ever.—

THE RIGHT TO A THRASHING.—The proceedings in the County Court, on the 24th setting, practically, as they did, one of the rights of rebellious students, are of the highest importance to the community. There is an age between boyhood and manhood when the docil-
